Condition of the Treasury—Pardons—The Order to Sheridan to Muster Out 25,000 Soldiers—Money to pay Texas Soldiers, &c

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.

The Treasury has more than sufficient funds now on hand to discharge every dollar of indebtedness due the soldiers. With the receipts from internal revenue, coming in at the rate of half a million per day, for the issue of certificates of indebtedness, the Department hopes to be able to meet all its liabilities, between this and the next session of Congress.

It is believed that two-thirds of the Texas army will be mustered out, in accordance with the order to Gen. Sheridan, directing him to discharge all the troops whose services, he thinks, can be dispensed with.

Another one of Lincoln's jokes has just occurred in Washington. A lady armed herself with a revolver, very like the one used by Miss Harris, and shot a soldier for inconstancy. The wound inflicted is very severe, but the chances are that he soon will do.

Another attempt to kidnap George N. Sanders, with the full details, will be found in our Cincinnati dispatches. The attempt consisted in carriage, but were finally overtaken and captured by twenty policemen. The story is fishy.

Nothing has yet been heard of the Great Eastern and Atlantic cable at Heart's Content.

Our Mexican intelligence is comforting but interesting. It is stated that Gen. Shaftor has just given a heavy blow to the Imperialists at Zeigan, completely routing them and capturing their artillery. Great disappointment was felt at the failure of the combined Imperial and French campaign against Negrete. Gen. Corona remains in the region of Matamoras to Monterey. This last information is not in accordance with previous information from the same quarter.

Our Atlanta intelligence is comforting but interesting. It is stated that Gen. Shaftor has just given a heavy blow to the Imperialists at Zeigan, completely routing them and capturing their artillery. Great disappointment was felt at the failure of the combined Imperial and French campaign against Negrete. Gen. Corona remains in the region of Matamoras to Monterey. This last information is not in accordance with previous information from the same quarter.

Our Atlanta intelligence shows great improvement in public sentiment, but still many of the planters express doubts as to the success of the free labor movement.

A paymaster is going to New Orleans immediately with $5,000,000 to pay off the Texas troops about to be mustered out.

Gen. Grant held a reception at Montreal on Tuesday, which was attended by the leading citizens and the elite generally of that city.

During the day, accompanied by the Mayor of Montreal and others, he passed over the Victoria bridge.

Whatever truth may attach to the attempted abduction of George Sanders,—and we believe the whole thing has been gotten up for a sensation,—it is quite certain that no one in Washington has any knowledge of or regrets the proceeding. Our Government does not want George Sanders, and if it did he could be easily obtained by the power of the extradition treaty.

The President met his Cabinet for the first time in ten days. The session was a very long one.

Jeff. Davis, good authority says, is as jovial as possible in prison. He says he thinks he will be, has pleasant quarters, and is disposed to be sociable.

THE CROPS AND THE LATE RAINS.

The late rains have undoubtedly inflicted more serious injury upon the crops than those which prevailed two weeks ago, and which rendered such serious inroads all over the country. We publish this morning a series of dispatches from the various counties of Illinois, and parts of Wisconsin, accessible by telegraph, more voluminous than any of our former reports. According to the dispatches from Illinois there can be no doubt in the mind of any who will examine them carefully that the wheat crop has been destroyed, but the chances are that he soon will do.

Another attempt to kidnap George N. Sanders, with the full details, will be found in our Cincinnati dispatches. The attempt consisted in carriage, but were finally overtaken and captured by twenty policemen. The story is fishy.

KENTUCKY.

The election in Kentucky has probably resulted in the defeat of the Constitutional amendment by a decisive majority. The ancient Bourbons of that State, who learn nothing and forget nothing, have carried a majority of the Legislature and a majority of the people. Gentlemen who have always voted patriotically to be trusted between the Ohio and Indian millstones of freedom in Ohio and Tennessee. They can, of course, have as much sympathy as they desire of this sort of grinding. They deserve it all through the country, with the returns rendered up to the greatest time.

FROM SPRINGFIELD.

Official Visit to Camp Butler—Regiments in Camp Muster—Promotions—Monthly Bonds, &c.

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.]

SPRINGFIELD, Aug. 8.

The Governor, Gen. Haynie, Col. Hadley and others, intend paying an official visit to Camp Butler to-morrow morning, which it is hoped will effectually relieve anxiety concerning the health of the soldiers in the camp. With the exception from the internal revenues, which are coming in at the rate of over $1,000,000 per day, the issue of certificates of indebtedness, has now reached what is quite considered a sufficient amount, and it is hoped to be able to meet its liabilities between this and the session of Congress. The Treasurer has been authorized to issue certificates of indebtedness at the rate of a million a week. As they have no need, nearly all of them have been disposed of, and very few more will issue for the next nine months.

Forty-three pardons were granted to day to persons in the State prison.

It is stated in military circles that one-third or of the army in Texas will be discharged by order of the War Department to Gen. Sheridan, directing him to muster out all general officers whose services he thinks can be dispensed with.

The receipts from internal revenue to-day were $1,000,000, two hundred and sixty-eight thousand one hundred and thirty-nine dollars and eighty-three cents.

A delegation from rebeldom, some twenty in number, arrived here this morning, and are applicants for pardon. Henry C. Burnett, member of Congress from Kentucky, is here trying about all the rebels he can get hold of to pardon.

There are 1,804 National Banks now in operation, with an aggregate capital of over three hundred and ninety-five millions. Two dollars bank notes from Illinois there can be no doubt in the mind of any who will examine them carefully that the wheat crop has been destroyed, but the chances are that he soon will do.

Another attempt to kidnap George N. Sanders, with the full details, will be found in our Cincinnati dispatches. The attempt consisted in carriage, but were finally overtaken and captured by twenty policemen. The story is fishy.

FROM CAIRO AND BELOW.

Intelligence from the Indian Territory—The Present Condition of Affairs There, &c.

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.]

CAIRO, Aug. 8.

The steamer Adah Jacobs, Spencer, Master, White, Clerk, has arrived with the 6th Iowa Cavalry, 850 men, on board. This gallant regiment has been stationed in the Indian Territory for the past six months.

The Memphis Bulletin publishes the following which it says was obtained from several officers of this regiment. They state that there is much excitement prevailing at Fort Gibson, Tahlequah and other points in the country, with regard to the proposed return of the Confederate rebel Indians to their former homes and property, under the recent proclamation of the President of the United States.

The Union Indians take the ground that the President's proclamation has no application to them, as they are not rebels, but have always been faithful to themselves, and have the strongest right of regaining their own internal affairs. The rebel Indians claim that the time for the 60 days, in which they have never surrendered their arms, which they hold as private property, they will do so with force if necessary; and that they will not be bound by the conditions and amnesty declarations themselves.

Just after the close of the war the Indian Regiments that had served in the Union army were declared, and their arms taken from them, by authority of the United States. They were allowed in a manner left defenceless. Of course the greatest terror prevailed throughout the nation when the murders and threats of the followers of Stand Watie became known to their friends. The present authorities, however, have returned to the Indians their arms, ammunition and equipments, and they feel able to defend themselves in any way they see proper.

A grand pow wow had been called at Fort Gibson for twenty-one tribes, composing the United Confederacy, but it adjourned without coming on any definite policy. The excitement was growing more and more intense, and it was feared an open rupture would soon ensue. It is thought, however, that the policy of the Government of the United States toward the rebel soldiers will be followed, which is adopted, within it hoped will succeed in preventing for the present anything like a general outbreak.

The Commercial Bank Dissolution—Other Side of the Question.

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.]

CAIRO, Aug. 8.

The Memphis Bulletin says that the counsel for the Commercial Bank expresses the utmost confidence that an investigation will remove every shade of doubt as to the credit of the bank and the honesty and integrity of the bank officers.

There are 1,804 National Banks now in operation, with an aggregate capital of over three hundred and ninety-five millions. Two dollars bank notes from Illinois there can be no doubt in the mind of any who will examine them carefully that the wheat crop has been destroyed, but the chances are that he soon will do.

FROM INDIANAPOLIS.

Military Reconstruction—Hymenial—General U. S. Hancock.

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 8, 1865.

The 150th Infantry, Col. Frank Wilcox, and 70th, Lt. Col. Smith, had a reception, this afternoon, to the State House Square. Generals Morey and Mansfield, Gov. Morton, Wilcox, and others, delivered brief addresses. These are one year regiments, and were only organized in April last.

Dispatches from Gen. Emory announce that the two new regiments are ready to Wednesday, and readily. The 149th will reach this city to-night, and the 37th and 150th, to-morrow. They are Cincinnati regiments.

Col. Bob Stewart, late of the 11th Cavalry, took a notion to get married to-day, and did so. The bride was Miss Flora Wilcox, of this city, and the ceremony took place at Meridian Church, officiated at by the rector.

Maj. Gen. Hancock and family passed through this city this noon, en route to Washington. The military condition of our city, which has been very bad of late, is improving gradually with the weather.

The army-skirt volume Indiana Report is now published and ready for delivery.

FROM CINCINNATI.

The Weather—The Bridge Across the Ohio—Kentucky Election.

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.]

CINCINNATI, Aug. 8, 1865.

The rain seems to be all over. The weather is delightful.

A cricket match commenced to-day between the Detroit club and the Cincinnati, and resulted, 69 for the former and 61 for the latter. The game will be continued to-morrow.

In consequence of the new approach of the Ohio when the cable for the bridge across the river, the contractors have commenced laying it into motion. [illegible]

[illegible] All the locks below river [illegible] will be [illegible] of the [illegible] of small craft on the river.

The election of Gen. Green Clay Smith to Congress from the Lexington District, is confirmed. He defeats him over the rest of Kentucky, the correspondent of the Gazette admitting by the fact of the Union candidate in the Lexington District, in his dirty self-slavery sentiments, the opposition of Gen. Peabody, who, upon the principle of white troops in exchange for two negro regiments to do duty there during the election, kept them at home. Every effort of the party to the present this refusal to vote in consequence of this state of things.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 1, 1864.

Mr. C. F. HAYDEN, of Mt. Pisgah, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes:

The son of Mr. Richard Sawyer has been afflicted with a SCROFULOUS AFFECTION for about seven years. The disease first appeared in the form of an ulcerated sore on the back of the neck, and continued to spread until many portions of the body were affected. Last October Mr. Sawyer was induced to try DR. JAYNE'S ALTERATIVE. He procured a bottle, and before it was all used the sore began to heal. He continued the use of the ALTERATIVE, and in two months the boy was entirely cured. He has remained well ever since. We consider this remedy the best blood purifier in the city. WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 9, 1865.

THE CITY.

Unitarian Church Meeting.—Rev. A. G. Taylor of this city, will preach this evening, at 7½ o'clock, in the above church.

Parnell Guards.—The old regiment was exhausted years ago aforesaid and will be continued, possibly consolidated, to-day.

Base Ball.—The members of the old Atlantic Base Ball Club are requested to meet at the Opera House, on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of reorganizing.

The Dramatic Department.—We are requested to state that the legal difficulty between Messrs. Fennessy and Metzger, which culminated on Thursday in a suit before Justice Brown, has been amicably settled between the parties.

Hot Days.—As an instance of the way in which coal taps is sometimes employed, we may mention that a little alteration in the P. O. Office has been in this city is being effected by those workmen, and a superintendent sent direct from Washington.

Electric Reviver.—The seventy-second regiment Illinois volunteers, first Board of Trade regiment, F. C. Sherman commanding, is now daily expected home. The 113th regiment, Colonel Dickinson, has understood to be on its way to Springfield.

Thanks.—The thanks of the Tribune boys are due to W. H. Bonham, of the Metropolitan Hotel saloon, for a liberal remembrance last evening in the shape of a fine lunch. The saloon is very much improved, and is now the coolest resort of the establishment, and is more largely patronized than ever. He deals in none but the best.

The Hoyne Regiment.—The difficulties attending upon the final settlement of accounts and rolls for out of the service of the Sixth regiment Illinois volunteers, are not yet adjusted. Many of the regiment, at its expense of about $1,000 per month, have lost. Corny Douglas is waiting for something to turn up.

Iowa Regiment Homeward Bound.—The 36th regiment Iowa infantry, numbering about five hundred men, arrived here at nine midnight last night, by way of the Chicago & Rock Island R. R., to receive its honorable discharge. They were quartered in the Soldiers' Home, and left at 4 last evening for Iowa.

Thieves.—The pooch stop of Southern Illinois has been given out, or very nearly so, and that of Northern Indiana has been let. The latter brings fruit to harder and better adapted shipping purposes and therefore commands a somewhat higher price, ranging from 75 cents per box—fruit has been ruling for some days past.

Improvement Wanted.—Any person who has any knowledge of the residence of the friends of Captain Charles Abbott, discharged from Co. D, 3d Regiment Veteran Reserve Corps, at Chicago, on the 7th inst., is requested to communicate the same to O. D. Ashley, Secretary of the Young Christian Association, room 18, Metropolitan Church Block. Mr. Abbott had been in the employ of Mr. Charles Ogden, and resided in Joliet in the north part of the city, previous to enlisting.

Overdue Regiment.—Two of those regiments which have recently arrived from the front preparatory and discharge from the service, were expected here or within a short distance of Springfield, and the consequence was that a number of citizens, with a view to meeting their friends, proceeded there. They returned last night, without having met with the regiments they did, and the case was simply this:

Regiment Reported.—In our recent summary of regiments made up the bounties of this city to the American Exchange Bureau for the ten months ending June 30 of the Masters & Lid & Drowsey, amounting to 4,021 barrels, was omitted. The following is their complete report:

Pork	2,000	Pork	3,272
Beef	1,000	Beef	1,000
Lard	1,000	Lard	1,000
Tallow	1,000	Tallow	1,000
Lard	1,000	Lard	1,000
Total for ten months			9,021 barrels.

Chamber of Commerce—Overdue Commission.—The commissioners attending the opening of the Chamber of Commerce on the 4th inst., and the 5th of the present month, will be of great interest, and very inspiring. The following is a list of the commissioners, who, we understand, are duly appointed on by the Directors of the Board of Trade:

First day—Opening ceremonies will commence at 10 o'clock in the morning, with an address from one of the Opera Houses in the evening.

Second day—Excursion and tours down the river to the forenoon; a visit to the principal elevators in the afternoon; and in the evening a ball at the Opera House in the evening.

Third day—Carriages will be provided to convey the excursionists to the city of Chicago, and the commissioners will come with a grand ball at the evening.

Reception of the 31st Regt., Ill. Vols.—At nine o'clock yesterday morning, the 31st regiment Illinois volunteers were formed at the Soldiers' Home, and as they left upon the preceding night for Springfield, and a number of their friends, together marched up to the Court House square. Here the regiment was received by the Board of Trade, and addressed a very brief but highly patriotic address to the Court House square. Col. Rogers responded to the same in behalf of the regiment, returning thanks for the warm welcome and generous hospitality which they had received at the hands of Chicago, and for the soldierly paying a well deserved compliment to the gallantry of the men under his command. Col. Wentworth, of the 13th Ill. Vols., also made a few remarks in behalf of the 13th regiment, which he ordered to be printed. He remarked that he was at liberty to say that the 13th would not re-enlist, but that the soldiers of this County would not permit him to say but then re-inlisted some of the men. He thanked and complimented the Board of Trade for their kindness to the regiment. While it is not necessary that it should be a regular custom to receive regiments in this manner, it is very fitting to visit a neighbor and welcome him home. Many of the men in whose honor the reception was given have been absent from their homes for three years, and have undergone many hardships and privations. Many of them have left their families in destitute circumstances, and have been compelled to leave their families in destitute circumstances, and have been compelled to leave their families in destitute circumstances, and have been compelled to leave
